

CEO, COO, CTO ON DEMAND - KEEP YOUR UNICORNS SAFE!

Mission:

To assist businesses in navigating the survival phase by leveraging expertise in various areas such as leadership training, maximizing production, sales and communication technics.

With highly creative and innovative ideas in the field of problem solving and having an exceptional eye for detail that has not gone unseen by the clients I have worked for.

Possessing the ability to effectively share these strengths with all that I manage, whilst boosting morality and pushing each individual to supersede their own capabilities.

Our Expertise:

- Leadership training with hierarchy of authority implementation
- Pushing production to full capacity
- Maximizing sales strategy and marketing capacity

Latest projects:

Belta - From 1 Mio to 12 Mio in a 7 year period | Optimized production and sales

Juicy Marbles - From 300 loins per day to 700 in 2 months | Leadership coaching

Siapro - Identifying and solving production problems | Hierarchy structuring

At N9 CEO on Demand, we understand the challenge that companies face today in keeping up with rapid changes and the inability to effectively train and respond with their workforce. That's why we're here to help. We come in, identify the problem, provide solutions, teach and train, and then leave you equipped to handle any future challenges. We usually take from two weeks or three months to finish a project. Our expertise in leadership training, production optimization, and sales strategy allows us to effectively tackle any obstacles that your business may face. So why struggle alone when you can have an experienced CEO on demand?

Contact us to find out how we can help take your business to the next level.
